* Notes on the Wudang Taiji Sword Class (Monday 6.05pm)

Both the Monday 6.05pm class in Euston, and the Thursday 6.35pm class in Sevenoaks will be continuing the Wudang Taiji (Tai Chi) Sword. The set of movements falls into 'Sections' and we have done Sections 1-4 (out of 6). For anyone wishing to join, it would NOT be a problem. The way the class works is that we work on one of the first 4 sections, and we then work on the new section that no one has done.

This uses the double-edged sword ('jian'), and if you'd like to try the class out you are welcome to borrow a sword. We'll be taking time in getting through the set of movements, and if you've never tried any weapon form before, this is a great one to try out to expand your repertoire. The Wudang Taiji Sword Form is a lively form with both slow and fast movements.

There are many YouTube performances of the Form, a couple of which are:-

A performance by me in 2008: HERE.

A more 'dramatic' version: HERE.

* Notes on the 42 Taiji Class (Tuesday 7.05pm)

This is still a good time to join this class. Last term we went back to the 1st section (there are 4 sections in all) and this term we'll be looking at sections 1 & 2 in more detail.

Although the Form is predominantly Yang style, it also combines a mixture of different styles of Tai Chi and is a good introduction to other types of Tai Chi.

* Notes on the Sun Style Tai Chi Class (Friday 12.05pm)

This is a 'modular' form consisting of various short sections, which, apart from the opening can be performed in almost any order. This can be performed by all levels from complete beginner to advanced, and is also particularly good if you have knee problems (e.g. arthritis).

* Notes on 2-Person Classes (Tuesday 8.05pm/Saturdays)

Both the Tuesday 8.05pm class in Euston, and the Saturday courses in Westminster will focus on:

- Learning how to relax
- The use of the movements in Tai Chi Form (applications)
- Applying the movements so that you maintain your own integrity (centre of balance)
- Finding & working from the centre/core/Dantian
- Developing the sense of 'feel' when working with someone else
- Connecting your centre to your hands
- Turning a partner's energy around so as to unbalance him/her
- We will also work on a 2-Person Tai Chi Form in order to understand applications of moves

Posture, Balance, and Intention.

By far the most important part of these classes is developing the ability to sense and be aware not only of one's own posture, balance, and intention, but also that of another person.

Relaxation.

Many of the exercises are ultimately about the ability to act from a very relaxed body and mind, so that (for example) if someone pushes towards you, you don't 'lock up' (the instinctive reaction), but instead you sense the push, and divert it. Initially it is this 'locking up' (which in effect makes you unable to move), that we are working on undoing.

This is about getting more control of your sympathetic nervous system (fight & flight), the 'stress' system, so that in difficult situations, you 'roll with the punches' better.
